

Level 2 Health - Course Outline

This course will help develop knowledge and critical thinking skills around the ‘Underlying Concepts’ in Health and how they impact themselves, others and society. Topics are posed that impact the youth of today and ākongas are given the chance to implement change. This course will also challenge ākongas to develop strategies that enable them to contribute to the positive health practices in our school and community. It will support personal growth and challenge ākongas’ thinking about what is fair and just. Learners will explore attitudes and values and develop understanding of behaviours that encourage equity, respect, care and concern for others and social justice. The Rangi Graduate is embedded within the course as learners gain an understanding of their place in society and how to be part of the change. The learning intentions of these are taught in a way that best meets the needs of the learners, utilising current relevant contexts. All assignments and projects can be completed in any mode (oral, written, prez.com, One note, video etc) as long as they meet the requirements of the task. By the end of the course, and depending on the standards chosen, ākongas should have gained an understanding of a wide range of issues relating to the diversity of Health issues within NZ.
